Queen's
School of English

Queen's School of English (QSoE) offers exceptional English language learning programs to international students from around the world. We provide engaging and rigorous classes and an outstanding level of student support. Intercultural growth, immersion, and experiential learning opportunities ensure that students adapt to their new environment and become an essential part of our learning community.

The first component of our Internationally Trained Teachers program is our 12-week, English for Academic Purposes course offered through QSoE*. The program focuses on integrated practice in all four language skills:

Reading | Writing | Speaking | Listening

Classes introduce learning strategies common in Canadian postsecondary education that are vital to the 21st century job market, such as critical thinking and task-based learning. Students will be working to reach the language requirements of the Ontario College of Teachers and they will practise vocabulary that will be useful in their practicum.

*To qualify for the Internationally Trained Teachers program, students will need to meet the English language requirements or complete the English language pathway program. For more information, please visit pros.educ.queensu.ca/certificates/ITT.

Practicum and School Experience

Experiencing an Ontario classroom is an important part of preparing to teach in Ontario. Candidates will gain school experience through either a 30-day practicum or interactive school experiences. We will do our best to place each candidate in a practicum but cannot guarantee a practicum placement due to teacher shortages. If a candidate is not placed, they will be refunded the practicum fee but will still have the opportunity to gain experience in Ontario schools.

Practicum

Candidates will complete a practicum of six consecutive weeks at a school that follows the Ontario curriculum. They will be mentored and assessed by an OCT-certified teacher.

The placement may be in-person or virtual and will offer each candidate experience in their division for certification. We will try to place Intermediate/Senior candidates within their teaching subject area.

School Experience

Candidates will have the opportunity to visit a variety of school settings and learn about the different programs that are offered, particularly in high schools. There will be opportunities to visit different types of classrooms and learning settings to gain a better understanding of how Ontario schools operate.

Specialized Applied Graduate Experience

Are you looking to continue your education once you complete your post-graduate certificate for Internationally Trained Teachers?

Queen's University's Continuing Teacher Education and Faculty of Education have designed the Specialized Applied Graduate Experience (SAGE) program to help you meet your goals for a graduate education on your own terms. The course-based, fully online SAGE program offers advanced standing into the Graduate Diploma in Education and Professional Master of Education programs upon completion of this post-graduate certificate.

Graduate Diploma in Education

After completing a post-graduate certificate, candidates will be invited to apply to the Graduate Diploma in Education, where they will examine their professional environment to understand it more deeply, to solve problems, and to effect change in a chosen area of concentration.

Professional Master of Education

The last step of the SAGE program is the Professional Master of Education, in which candidates will elevate the skills they acquired in the post-graduate certificate and the graduate diploma and apply them through a capstone project.
